

#WhatWomenNeed

for Valentine's Day

Friends...

In his State of the Union Address, President Obama reaffirmed what American women know best: “When women succeed, America succeeds.” House Democrats could not agree more.

From now until February 14, House Democrats will lead an online initiative, What Women Need for Valentine’s Day, to amplify the need for Congress to take action on its agenda, When Women Succeed, America Succeeds: An Economic Agenda for Women and Families. If you would like to join us, use your social media outlets to highlight what women really need, e.g. equal pay.

Specifically, here is what you can do if you choose to participate:

- 1) Post a photo or video of yourself on Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, Vine, or Youtube holding this sign to share your story and highlight policies in the economic agenda (e.g. “Equal Pay,” “$10.10,” “Paid Sick Leave” or “Affordable Child Care”) using #WhatWomenNeed.
- 2) Use your social media outlets to continue to share your story and thoughts on the key aspects of our women’s economic agenda, including: equal pay, paid leave, increasing the minimum wage to $10.10, and affordable child care.
- 3) Go to www.facebook.com/StandUpForWomen to share your story.

Making your voice heard on these critical issues will help advance the needs of women and families.

Thank you,

Office of Democratic Leader Nancy Pelosi
